Note: Insurers report this data to SIRA. Data is as at June 2018.

RTW data note: SIRA identified data quality issues with the completeness of the work status code data submitted by the Nominal Insurer (NI).
This impacts the quality of the Return to Work data. SIRA determined this needed to be swiftly corrected and instructed the NI to improve the quality of this data.
The NI has advised this will be rectified by the October data submission.

The return to work (RTW) rate is the percentage of time lost by claimants who have been off work as a result of their employment-related injury/disease and have returned to work at different points in time from the date the claim was reported (i.e., 4, 13 and 26 weeks for the Workers Compensation monthly dashboard). RTW rates are calculated monthly for the last 13 months up to the date of data. The cohort for each RTW measure is based on claims reported in a 12-month period, with a lag to allow for claim development (i.e., the lag for the 4-week measure is 28 days; the lag for the 13-week measure is 91 days; and the lag for the 26-week measure is 182 days).
